The Deputy Tahsildar, Buntwal Sub Taluk.

Humble memorial of P. Mahabala Shetty, attender, Deputy Tahsildar's office, Sub Taluk, Buntwal, South Kanara District dated 27-8-1933.

Most respectfully sheweth that,

1. Till 31-3-1929 the scale of pay to the attenders attached to the Stationary Sub Magistrate's and that of the Sub Taluk offices, was the same. But by G.O.No.668 Rev.Misc. dated 29-3-1929 it was raised from Rs. 12-1-18 to Rs. 20-1-35, only in case of the attenders of the Stationary Sub Magistrates' offices.

Treasury, Huzur Office, Dt. Labour Office, Dt. Police Office, the Local Fund Offices, Station House Offices and Sub-Registrars' besides occasional tappals to the Dt. Munsif, Mangalore, the Sub Court, the District and Sessions Court, South Kanara and offices of the Health Department, ----- Superintendent of Post Offices, Veterinary Offices, ----- Superintendent of Sub Jails and offices of the Settlement Department &c.

Another important item of despatch work turned out by the attender of the Sub Taluk is transmission by post to private parties, the certified copies of records prepared, documents prepared both in Revenue and Criminal cases which are to be returned and copies of orders, notices to parties in transfer of registry and darkhast cases &c. to be communicated. The orders to village officers and Revenue Inspectors of the Sub Taluk from the Taluk office and in turn the tappals from the village officers, the Revenue Inspectors and also other ----- departments are received and they have to be sorted and arranged and despatched from this office with such care to avoid handicap and confusion to routine work.

3. Indexing the records, reading out the depositions to the parties and writing summonses in Criminal cases, prepare fair copies of drafts, to prepare and cyclostyle copies of various orders issued from time to time to village officers is another item of work besides posting of correction slips to the volumes of the Boards Standing Order, Manual of village and Taluk accounts, Fundamental rules and Travelling allowance rules &c. Further the work in the Sub Taluk office is considerably aggravated by the receipt from the Taluk office and the village officers of a large number of demand notices. In fact the ------ amount of work generally turned out by the attender in the Sub Taluk office is such as would make him sit longer than the prescribed time and even late in the night particularly during the kist and Jamabandi seasons.

This is done by the clerks concerned and not by the attender 91 28/9/83

4. Under these circumstances the poor and humble memorialist ventures to pray that his work is in no way less than the attender of the Stationary Sub Magistrates office, and that his scale of pay may be graciously raised to that of the attender of the Stationary Sub-Magistrates office and earn the everlasting grattitude of a low paid servant of the benign Government.

most humble servant,

The Deputy Tahsildar of Beltangadi Sub-Taluk.

Humble memorial of B. Vasudeva Bhat, Attender, Deputy Tahsildar's Office, Beltangadi Sub-Taluk, South Kanara District.
Beltangadi, dated 1st September 1933.

Most respectfully sheweth that

1. Till 31-3-1929 the attenders attached to the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's and the Sub-taluk offices were on the same footing. But by G.O.No. 668 - Rev - Misc. dated 29-3-1929 the status of the attenders of the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's offices was raised by changing the scale of pay from Rs. 12--1--18 into Rs. 20--1--35. The reason assigned for this is that due to the inadequacy of the clerical staff in the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's offices the writing up of summonses and other processes and the maintenance of some registers are done by the attenders.

2. The attenders in the Sub-taluk offices are in no way worked less than their brothren in the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's offices. The very fact that a Sub-Taluk Office has been manned by a clerical staff containing one clerk more than in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's Office, presupposes that the work in a Sub-Taluk Office is heavier than in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's Office. Thus while the attender in a Stationary Sub Magistrate's Office has to work as an assistant to 2 clerks the attender of a Sub-taluk office has to co-operate with 3 clerks besides attending to the despatch of tappals. The despatch work alone when compared with that in the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office is, put it moderately, at least 10 times as much as that in Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office. Taking as an instance this Sub-taluk office and the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office Puttur, the range of despatch work is as follows

There are 4 Station House offices and one Sub -- Divisional Magistrate's office to which tappals are due from the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office. The processes that are to go from the Puttur Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office to the 2 Station House offices within this Sub-taluk are sent to here for being transmitted to the Station House offices. Added to this there are the tappals to be sent from this Sub-taluk office to 38 Potails, 16 Karnams, 2 Revenue Inspectors, 6 Panchayat courts, 20 Village courts, 1 Taluk office, 31 Panchayat Boards, 1 Stationary Sub Magistrate's office, 2 District Forest offices, 1 Revenue Divisional office, 1 District Treasury, 1 Huzur office, 1 District Labour office, 1 District Police office, the Local Fund offices, 2 Station House offices. 2 Police Inspectors' offices and 2 Sub-Registrars besides the occasional tappals to other Taluk and Sub-taluk offices in this District, the District Munsif, Puttur, the District and Sessions court South Kanara, the District Sub-court, Manglore, Offices of the Health deprtment, the Veterinary department, the Excise department, the Settlement department and the Postal department, the Superintendents of the Sub and Central Jails and Amildar Magistrates of Coorg and Mysore Provinces.

Another important and engrossing item of despatch work is transmission by post to private parties certified copies of records prepared, documents produced in Revenue and Criminal cases which are to be returned and copies of orders, notices to private parties in transfer of registry

d assignments, etc., etc., to be communicated. The orders village officers and Revenue Inspectors of this Sub-taluk sued from the Taluk office and in turn the tappals from the llage officers, the Revenue Inspectors and also other partments are received in this office. and they have to be cted, arranged and despatched from this office. A com -- rison of despatch register of this Sub-taluk office with at of the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office. Puttur. will, e memorialist ventures to submit amply bear out his contenon that the despatch work of the attender of this office is finitely more than that of the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's fice Thus the above amount of despatch work is sufficient ough to occupy the Sub-taluk office attender during the fice hours throughout each day. The necessity of taking ery good care in the despatch of tappals is not less than that involved in writing up processes. For, a wrong despatch of tappals will mean confusion and a handicap to the progress of routine work.

3. The attender's work in this Sub-taluk office does not end with despatch of tappals only. He has to prepare fair copies of drafts, examine the certified copies of records prepared, to draw up C1. and D. notices in assignment cases, to cyclostyle and prepare cyclostyle copies of various orders and circulars issued from time to time to the village officers and to work as an assistant to the record keeper in the arrangment and the sorting of records for destruction and posting of correction slips to the volumes of Board Standing Orders, Manual of Village and Taluk accounts, Fundamental Rules, District Office Manual, Manual of Special pay and Allowances. Madras Financial and Account Codes, etc. During the last months the despatch work in this Sub-taluk office is considerably enhanced by the receipt from the Taluk office and the village officers of a large number of demand notices. In fact the amount of work that is generally turned out by the attender in the Sub-taluk office is such as would make him sit up longer than the prescribed office hours and even late in the night particularly during the Kist season and the Jamabandi session.

4. Another peculiar feature of this malarial Sub-Taluk is that the clerks occasionally get malaria compelling them to be absent from their work and on such occasions their work falls on the attender, who being a local man is more or less immune from malaria.

5. In fine the lot of a Sub-taluk office attender is in no way better than that of his brother in the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office. If the criterion of pay depends on the work, then the attender in a Sub-taluk office has got work equal to, if not more than his brother in the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office. Your Excellency may, on a kind consideration of the above facts, be graciously pleased to raise the status of the attender in the Sub-taluk office to the same level as, if not higher than, that of the attender of a Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office and thereby earn the everlasting gratitude of a low paid servant of the benign Government.

The pay of the services was revised only recently after full consideration of all the facts. It is not therefore likely that the petn's request will be considered favourably. Further I do not think the work in Belthangadi Sub taluk is heavier than in the S.S. M's Court or in Hosdurg Sub Office. The Board of Revenue, quite recently passed orders refusing to recommend the increase of the pay of the Attenders in the Taluk Offices - I submit that there is no case for submitting the petition before Govt

Humble memorial of P.M.Krishnan Nayar, Attender, Deputy Tahsildar's Office, Sub Taluk, Hosdrug, South Kanara District.

Hosdrug, dated 8-9-1933.

Most respectfully shewth that

1. Till 31-3-1929 the attenders attached to the Stationary Sub.Magistrate's and the Sub Taluk Offices were on the same footing. But by G.O.No.668-Rev.Misc.dated 29-3-1929 the status of the attenders of the Stationary Sub Magistrate offices was raised by changing the scale of pay from Rs. 12 - 1 - 18, into Rs. 20 - 1 - 35. The reason assigned for this is that due to the inadequacy of the clerical staff in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's offices the writing up of --- summonses and other processes and the maintenance of some --- registers are done by the attenders.

2. The attenders in the Sub-taluk offices are in no way worked less than their brothern in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's offices. The very fact that a Sub-taluk --- office has been manned by a clerical staff containing one -- clerk more than in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's office,-- presupposes that the work in a Sub-taluk office is heavier -- than in the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office. Thus while t attender in a Stationary Sub Magistrate's office has to work as an assistant to 2 clerks the attender of a Sub-taluk office has to cooperate with 3 clerks besides attending to the despatch of tappals. The despatch work alone when compared with that in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's office, is, to put it moderately, atleast 10 times as much as that in a Stationary Sub Magistrate's office. Taking as an instance this Sub-taluk office and the ----- Stationary Sub Magistrate's office,Kasaragod, the bulk of despatc work is as follows:-

There are 2 Station House offices and 1 Sub Divisional Magistrate's office to which tappals are due from the Stationary Sub Magistrate's office. The processes that are to go from the Kasaragod Stationary Sub Magistrate's office to the Station House Office,Hosdrug within this Sub-taluk are sent here for being ---- transmitted to the Station House office. Added to this there are the tappals to be sent from the Sub-taluk office to36 Potails, 22 Karnams, 2 Revenue Inspectors, 10 Panchayat Courts, 11 Village Courts, 1 Taluk Office, 1 Stationary Sub Magistrate's office, 1 District Forest Office, 1 Revenue Divisional Office,1 District Treasury, 1 Hazur Office, 1 District Labour Office, 1 District Superintendent of Police, the Local Fund offices including Taluk and District Boards offices, 2 Station House Offices, and 2 ----- Sub Registrars besides the occasional tappals to the District --- Munsif,Kasaragod, the District and Sessions Court, South Kanara, the District Sub-Court, offices of the Health Department,the ---- Superintendent of Post Offices, Veterinary Officers, Superintend--ent of Sub-Jail, Offices of the Settlement Department,Survey Department,Taluk Office,Chirakkal and the Sub Taluk,Taliparamba the Taluk and Sub-taluk offices, in the District and Railway ---- authorities etc., etc.,

Another important and engrossing item of despatch work is transmission by post to private parties certified copies of records prepared,documents produced in Revenue and criminal cases which are to be returned and copies of orders,notices to parties in transfer of registry and darkhast cases, etc. etc., to be communicated. The orders to village officers and Revenue -----

Inspectors of the Sub-taluk issued from the Taluk Office and in return the tappals from village officers, the Revenue ------ Inspectors and also other Departments are received in this --- office, and they have to be sorted and arranged and despatched from this office. A comparison of the despatch register of th Sub-taluk office with that of the Stationary Sub Magistrate's office, Kasaragod, will the humble memorialist ventures to ---- submit amply bear out his contention that the despatch work of the attender of this office is infinitely more than that o the Stationary Sub Magistrate's office. Apart from the above work compilation of Vital Statistical returns and correspondenc relating to epidemic and very often malayalam translation too are thrown on the attender of this office. Thus the above amou of despatch work alone is sufficient enough to occupy the Sub taluk office attender during the office hours throughout each day. The necessity of taking every good care in the despatch of tappals is not less than that involved in preparing process -es. For a wrong despatch of tappals will mean confusion and a handicap to the progress of routine work.

3. The attender's work in the Sub-taluk office here, does not end with despatch of tappals only. He has to prepare fair copies of drafts, examine the certified copies of records prepared, to draw up C.1. and D.notices in darkhast --- cases, to cyclostyle and prepare cyclostyle copies of various orders and circulars issued from time to time to the village officers and to work as an assistant to the record keeper in the arrangements of records, sorting of records for destruction and posting of correction slips to various Government books (th volumes of Board Standing orders, manual of Village and Taluk accounts, Fundamental rules, Travelling allowance rules, etc.e During the kist months the despatch work in the Sub-taluk ----- office is considerably enhanced by the receipt from the Taluk office and the village officers of a large number of demand --- notices. In fact the amount of work that is generally turned ou by the attender in the Sub-taluk office is such as would him sit uplonger than the prescribed office hours and even late in the night particularly during the kist season and th Jamabandy session.

Reviews on the Revenue business returns of this Sub-taluk of the previous 3 half year endings if ----- perused would prove that the revenue work alone in this Hosdrug -- Division is equal to a Tahsildar's office, and it is no strange that the -- attender of such offices are constrained to assist the clerk in their heavy work. Requisitions for immediate relief by -- appointing an additional clerk and by enchancing the ------ attender's pay similar to Stationary Sub Magistrate's Court attenders in this office as a special case were made to the Head of the Department.

5. In fine the lot of a Sub-taluk office --- attender is in no way better than that of his brother in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's Office. If the criterion of pay depends on the work then the attender in a Sub-taluk office has got work equal to if not more than his brother in the Stationary Sub Magistrate's office.
